

Having continues traffic updates is a valuable tool for me. I live in the Dallas/Fort Worth, TX metro-plex and having to wait for the local radio stations to announce traffic delays every 8 - 10 minutes can mean the difference between getting to work in 20 minutes vs. having a 45 minute delay because I was not aware of traffic problems on my route to work. Do not pull this valuable benefit from paying customers. We are willing to pay for this service and should be allowed to keep it.
